

Ways to Ask for Student Feedback OTEI

Ask for feedback early & often
Canvas Survey or Qualtrics (Anonymous is key!)

CLEAREST POINT & MUDDIEST POINT

Best for content understanding and could be used during class or at the end of class.

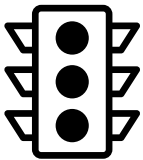

Question Example:

What is the clearest point from this week's lesson? What is the muddiest point?

START - CONTINUE - STOP

Best for mid-semester check in on what instruction or studying adjustments need to be made. Good for student reflection too!

Question Example:

What is something that I should continue doing that is helping you learn well?

What is something you should start doing to help you study more effectively for the next exam?

GENERAL CHECK IN

Best to do a few times a semester and ask for general class experience and student well-being.

Question Example:

How confident are you feeling now that we are a month into the semester?

1 MINUTE REFLECTIONS

Best to be used for brief understanding of content or on teaching.

Question Example:

What is 1 specific thing that I did in this lecture to help you understand the material?

*Pose the question and set a timer for 1 minute.
After a minute collect responses.*

PULSE CHECK

Best for very quick, informal check in on how students are feeling about a new or upcoming topic.

Question Example:

What is 1 word that describes how you are feeling about the new topic that we will start next class?
